

01 Pipe dream Cassi Hill, a young British designer, has created this glamorous pendant light from pipecleaners. It is available in a number of strong colours. Hill was exhibiting in Paris as part of the British European Design Group.
www.cassihill.co.uk

02 State of flax The new collection from Christien Meindertsma is a contemporary interpretation of the 16th century use of flax and includes this unusual piece of lighting. The collection is on sale through Thomas Eyck.
www.thomaseyck.com

03 Vinyl frontier We first featured Arzu Firuz's vinyl rug designs after she made her Maison et Objet debut in 2007. The designer was back with her own stand this year and a new and intriguing set of designs called Sublime Vinyl.
www.arzu-firuz.com

04 Floor filler This new way of laying parquet flooring from Penrose uses a combination of woods (including oak and walnut) in six motifs. The company is named after Sir Roger Penrose, famous for exploring crystalline structures.
www.penrose.de

05 With knobs on Dainty Danish doorknobs from designer Trine Weng, who works in ceramics from her studio in Copenhagen. They come in three sizes (80mm, 60mm and 40mm) in plain colours or with a graphic motif and can be used as hooks or knobs.
www.casalinga.dk

06 Get knotted The Knot Collection, designed by Belgian duo Atelier Blink, is a fun range of seating and cushions. Made from wool, they come in a host of different shapes, colours and sizes and are available from the Collection Paris
www.thecollection.fr

07 Sharpen up French designer Erwan Boulloud has created Triptere, a glass and metal table with spiky geometric lines that evoke the aesthetics of Gotham City.
www.erwanboulloud.com